

I am writing about the blandness of today's market in media of my community. There is 12 local radio station in my area; 70% being owned by "Clear Channel. In which you here the same songs over and over and over. No new music hardly ever and independent music has no chance at all.